Synopsis	Danny Mok has been a civil engineer since his graduation from university in 1971. He worked for the Hong Kong Government (the Hong Kong SAR Government after 1997) uninterruptedly for over 35 years. When he retired in 2006, his rank was Government Engineer and his last posting was Deputy Project Manager/ HKI&I of the Territory Development Department.

He had handled a large number of major civil engineering projects, including the Hung Hom Railway Terminus and the Sha Tin New Town in the 1970's and 1980's, and the Airport Core Projects in the 1990's. However, his major interests and strength lie in the area of contract advisory and dispute resolution. He was one of the contract advisors for the then Territory Development Department between 1990 and 1994, and during this five years he was actively involved in claims advisory and dispute resolution processes of a large number of major projects, including Airport Core Projects.

Danny Mok is an early pioneer in the field of Alternative Dispute Resolution. He attended an accredited course in mediation offered by Professor Green from the USA back in the early 1990's. In 1997, he was one of the founding committee members of the Hong Kong Institute of Arbitrators.

He became a non-practising barrister since 1994, having been called in both England and Hong Kong in that year. He then practiced as a barrister between 2009 and 2012.

After 2012, he continued as DRA and contract advisors for different contracts in Hong Kong.

Construction Disputes Resolution

1975 – 2005 As a civil engineering professional, understandably he was involved with a large number of construction litigation cases. Because of both his academic qualifications and practical experience, he was often put in the role of negotiator in the case of or in anticipation for contract or other form of disputes.

Arbitration

During the period of 1990-1994, as Contract Advisor, he handled and represented Government's best interests in all arbitration cases for the NT Southeast Development Office, the Sha Tin Development Office and the Urban Area Development Office (as they were then called). Examples are too numerous to quote but a typical one is the arbitration for the Tseung Kwan O Tunnel project. In a more personal capacity, as the Chairman of an Incorporated Owners, he handled an arbitration (and eventual mediation) process with a well-known renovation contractor, Wang On Co. Ltd. (a subsidiary of a listed company in Hong Kong).
- 2009 – 2012 As Counsel advising on this subject.

Mediation

- 2001 – 2005 Danny Mok acted as leader of mediation teams for a number of major civil engineering process (typical examples are the West Kowloon Reclamation and the Reclamation of Tseung Kwan O Area 137 project, the mediators of which were Ms. Teresa Cheng and Mr. Peter J. Ho respectively).
